Arina focuses on maritime law, international commercial arbitration and cross-border disputes. She is particularly drawn to litigation and arbitration arising out of maritime trade, especially disputes involving complex issues of private international law and procedural law. Her work at the firm includes assisting with international commercial and maritime disputes, including arbitration proceedings conducted overseas.

Key Practice Areas:

- Maritime Law

Ship arrests, legal assistance in projects concerning wrecks and other maritime casualties resulting in damage to vessels and their cargo.

- International Commercial Arbitration

Disputes arising from international maritime trade and shipping transactions.

- Commercial Contracts

Reviewing and analysing commercial contracts, including international trade agency agreements and licensing arrangements.

Representative Experience:

- International Arbitration in Dubai (DIAC). Assisted with a complex multi-party dispute arising out of the international carriage of goods by sea. Arina contributed to the preparation of procedural documents, including the statement of claim, conducted legal research and helped develop legal arguments. The proceedings were conducted entirely in English.
